Fusion of Strait Whigs and Wildcat Locos.

It is within the recollection of all our readers, probably, with what holy horror the strait whigs turned away from the doctrine that those who thought alike should act together, and how some of them berated the mass of the whig party for consenting to a mixed ticket, though bearing the names of those who thought alike upon the great subjects of temperance and freedom. But what will the people think now, when it is known that the strait whigs of Lincoln county have fused in their senatorial ticket with the administration, Pierce, Douglass & Co. of the slave interest locofocos. Such, however, is the case. The strait whigs of that county and the administration democrats held their respective Conventions at Wiscasset, on Wednesday last, and nominated a union ticket for Senators, consisting of Mr Reed, of Lewiston, Mr Hatthorn, of Richmond, E. Wilder Farley and Manasseh Smith, two whigs and two democrats. For Clerk of Courts, E. D. Lowen (W.) of Wiscasset, County Treasurer, Mondige G. Webber (L. F.) of Wiscasset; County Commissioner, John A. Levenseller (L. F.) of Waldoboro.

This action of the part of the strait whigs in Lincoln is in direct opposition to all their clamor about traitors to the whig party, it is in agreement with a doctrine they have repudiated and scorned, that those who think alike and feel alike should act together, it is a complete justification of the course of the mass of the whig party in their union ticket with temperance men and anti slavery men, it proves that the whig party has been outgrown, and become obsolete by the leading issues of the times, and above all, it clinches and makes apparent the fact that the strait whigs have only been holding on to the name for the purpose of drawing over to the administration of Frank Pierce, to the embrace of slavery extension, and the freedom of the rum bottle, as many as possible of the former, but now dead and buried whig party.

The union ticket in Lincoln county is only the first step in a direction which the leaders of the strait whigs and wildcat locos intend to take. They intend to enter into a fusion in every county, and every representative district in the State. Those who have heretofore acted with the whig party, and who are now willing to walk over to the camp of the followers of Pierce and Douglass, and aid in the extension of slavery, should do so at once, openly and avowedly, but those who wish to stick by the essential active principle of the whig party, as held by the gallant Harry Clay, and all the patriotic workers of that party in its day of activity and influence, resistance to the extension of slavery over free territory, should come at once with the Republican party, and aid in rebuking the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and all the doughfaces at the North who approve that iniquitous measure, and who are now willing to ignore the whole subject, and "let it slide."

Those who follow the strait whigs are on the direct road to the camp of wildcat locofocoism.

Those who unite with the Republican party, help those who are opposed to the extension of slavery and to intemperance, the two greatest evils of the times and of the world.

The "State of Maine," the leading organ of the strait whigs in Maine, thus lays down the practical rule of its party:

"Let that odious enactment (the Maine Law) be wiped from the Statute book—let its tyrannical executors be sent to private life—and then we may, with reason and with justice, look to see what we can do to preserve free territory from the curse of slavery."

The world has been previously informed as to what the strait whigs intend to do, if they ever succeed in straightening up their backs, from their unwanted subordination and postponement of the subject, and that is, as declared in one of their resolutions at the State Convention, to mark the authors of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise!!

FIRE AT DEER ISLE.—On Friday morning last, the store of Mr. Joshua Sellers, at Northwest Harbor, Deer Isle, was destroyed by fire, with all its contents. The fire was discovered bursting from the building, about 4 o'clock in the morning, and so far advanced that nothing could be rescued from the flames. The origin of the conflagration is unknown. The stock of goods was estimated at about $2500. Insured for $1600 in the Maine Insurance Company at Augusta. The building was insured for $300 in the Mercantile Union Company, at Concord, N. H. Yours, &c.

BRADLEY'S PATENT NUTMEG GRATER. Mr. Warren E. Chase from Lowell, Massachusetts, a young man who has by severe sickness lost the use of one of his arms, but who heroically desires to support himself, now offers to our citizens the very neat and convenient instrument for grating nutmegs without waste. Mr. Chase brings with him the best of testimonials as to his good character and habits and the article he offers for sale speaks for itself that it is well worth the price asked for it which is only a quarter of a dollar.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN HAMPDEN.—On Saturday last, Charles F. Fifield, Esq., Postmaster at Hampden Corner, in an effort to stop a horse while running away with a carriage, was thrown down and so severely injured that at last account he was not expected to recover. There was a lady in the carriage, who escaped without serious injury.

RUN OVER.—Mr Wm. Smith a blacksmith, residing in Barkerville, was run over in West Market square, on Saturday evening last, by a horse and chaise. He was stunned and badly bruised, but we believe not seriously injured.

On the 14th, at Newport, R. I., there was a regatta of the New York Yacht Club, open to all comers, in the Narragansett Bay, but owing to light winds and occasional calms, was quite unsatisfactory to all concerned—except, perhaps, the winning parties. The Julia, the Irene, and the Richmond each won a prize of $150.

The aggregate value of the real and personal estate in Brooklyn, N. Y., is $77,491,614, in Williamsburg $14,311,526; and in Bushwick $4,149,387—total, $95,921,437. These three places are now under one municipal government.

Destructive Fire at Lewiston Falls. Immense Loss of Property.

A fire broke out this morning at 20 minutes past 12 o'clock, in the drench buildings attached to the old tannery in the rear of Union Hall, west side of the river, to which it rapidly communicated, destroying in its course, on Main to Elm street, every building; and on the opposite side of Main street, all from Mr. Ingall's confectionary shop to the building occupied by Messrs. Gould & Co., being a great portion of the business part of the village, on the Auburn side.

Nearly all the buildings were of wood, and were mostly used as stores and offices. The large brick block on Main street, four wooden dwelling houses, a large number of offices and shops, and twenty stores, are completely destroyed. So rapid was the progress of the flames that but a small portion of the goods in the stores was saved. The Maine Hotel was in danger, but by great labor it was saved. The progress of the fire down Main street was here arrested.

Its progress up the north side of the street was only stopped by Elm street. It extended up Elm street only as far as Auburn Hall. On the south side of Main street the further progress of the fire was arrested by the demolition of the store occupied by Mr Wood.

The counting room of the Auburn Bank was in the brick block, and was completely burned, but the bank papers and valuables were safely secured. The Post office was also in this block. The Democratic Advocate Office, in Goff's building, was burned. Nearly all of the materials were saved.

It is impossible to ascertain the losses, but they are very large. Many of the losers were entirely uninsured; and very few were insured to the whole amount of their losses.

The burnt district covers several acres, and comprises nearly all the business portion of the Auburn side of the river. Hardly a store remains.

We understand that one individual, whose name we have been unable to learn, had his leg broken by the falling of a timber. Two others were somewhat bruised. The origin of the fire seems to be uncertain. It is said that in the building where the fire was discovered, there had been no fire for months, and there was nothing in the building which could have ignited the fire, unless it was some lime stored there. THE YELLOW FEVER—NAVAL. Norfolk, Va., Aug. 16. The yellow fever has extended from the infected district to the upper part of the city.

Many of our most prominent citizens have died and are dying of it. Great difficulty is experienced in getting nurses, and $10 per night is charged.

There was not more than 1500 people left in Portsmouth. Several prominent citizens in that city are also victims.

Baltimore, Aug 16. The fever alarm at Norfolk is abating. The deaths yesterday at noon, were only four. The deaths at Portsmouth have averaged eight a day since Friday.

The sloop of war Marion has returned to port without orders, having been condemned as unseaworthy.

A meeting for Norfolk sufferers was held today. $1000 were contributed by the meeting and provisions were purchased and despatched by the boat for Norfolk to-night.

Baltimore, August 17. At Portsmouth, yesterday, there were twelve deaths from yellow fever, and fifteen new cases. Midshipman Walter Jones, in command of the Pennsylvania there, and five seamen were down with it. The crew of the Pennsylvania has been taken to Crapey Island by the St. Lawrence, for better protection. Private letters from Norfolk represent the disease increasing there.

Five deaths and three new cases of fever are reported as having occurred in Richmond yesterday. All the parties were originally from Gosport.

The contributions in this city for the relief of the sufferers amount to $5000. Provisions are purchased, and sent down daily by the boats.

The Richmond Enquirer says that in a few years Kansas will probably ask admission into the Union as a Slave State, and may be refused,—in which case the Enquirer threatens an instantaneous division of the Union. The Enquirer forgets the efforts that were made, under the lead of the Virginia Senators, to keep California out of the Union, because that Territory applied for admission with a Free State Constitution. The Enquirer urges the Virginia Legislature to make immediate warlike preparation for an emergency which it deems so imminent. Whether this is merely "such stuff as dreams are made of," and really believed by the editor, or is an invention for some party purpose, it seems equally absurd to the sober looker-on.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Speech of Hon. N. P. Banks, of Massachusetts.

Hon. N. P. Banks, M. C., was next introduced to the assembly, and was received with several rounds of applause. He said

I would not meet you to-day, Mr. President, and fellow citizens of Maine, were you engaged simply in deciding a contest in which you alone are interested. I know something of the principles which govern the citizens of our different states in the management of their own affairs—and, from the brief experience of this kind which I have had, I am the last man that would stand upon a platform here to address you upon questions in which you alone are interested. But let me say to you this day, that you fight the battle of the American Union—(applause) you fight a battle for the perpetuation of this government—(renewed applause) you fight a battle for freedom against slavery, and for republican institutions, perhaps in their last place of existence. (Applause.) If they fail here, where shall we look for their re-establishment and their perpetuation? If, with the intelligence that we have, and the lessons that the fathers of our government have given us, if with that proud and glorious experience of three quarters of a century, since the dawning of the American revolution, and the establishment of the principles of equal rights, of American independence, if with all this we succumb to those who advocate principles of a different class, and spring from a different origin, to what quarter of the world shall we apply to guard over those principles hereafter? Shall we look to England or to France, to Russia or to China? Or to what quarter of the globe shall we look for men to sustain principles we have abandoned, and which we have suffered to be crushed down and destroyed before us? No, fellow citizens, I think I may say, in view of the history of the past year and a half, or two years, we have had the question presented to us whether the institutions of this country shall be maintained, and let me say, although I am not one of those of them who cry for the perpetuation of the Union, though I am willing, in a certain state of circumstances to "let it slide," I have no fear for its perpetuation. But let me say, if the chief object of the people of this country be to maintain, perpetuate and propagate chattel property in man, in other words, human slavery—that Union cannot stand, and it ought not to stand. (Prolonged applause.)

I no doubt speak to some gentlemen who have heretofore belonged to associations with which I have not been connected. My friend who has just left the stand has had experience different from mine; and doubtless many of you now have different views upon past events—but upon this point we can all agree—that if the object of the government be the perpetuation of human slavery, and chattel bondage, this union cannot long be maintained.

And how this question is presented to us, who is it that conspires now against the principles of American government? Who is it conspires against the principles of American preponderance—the principles of the Atlantic Union? I hail from Massachusetts—a State sometimes denounced for her extreme views upon this and perhaps, on some other questions. I do not believe in all Massachusetts has done, but I stand here to defend my State, in what she has done, against the charge that she desires to see a disunion of the States. On the contrary, I think the people of Massachusetts are all attached to the Union—all attached to the principles of American liberty—as attached to the constitution, that they will stand to it true to everything that the constitution demands of the people of the country, or that it commands for the peace of the States composing the American confederacy. And if Massachusetts be true, certainly there is no one of the New England States which can justly be charged with treason. How is it on the other side? Let us look at our friends down South, with whom I have acted and whom I have sustained in many of their leading measures. I do not think it can be said with a fair show of reason and truth and plausibility that they are willing to perpetuate this government on the principles of the American constitution or the principles advocated and maintained by the fathers of the American government—and I am willing to try the question here and everywhere—now and in the future, whether we are the real friends of the American government. But let me say, fellow citizens, that this is the question to be decided now. There are many questions that can be decided today or postponed until tomorrow. There are many of them great issues that we can consider now and act upon now and yet, and that hereafter should remain as the determined judgment of the people. But this is not one of those questions. This matter is one that is to be determined at present, now, at this time, in the election this year and the year to come, and not after that. If we are stricken down now, if we fail in this next contest, we have no more chance—the contest is decided and the system of slavery will have a right to forget the American people as being in favor of the principles they advocate.

And let me say now, by way of caution, that if you differ upon other questions that may be determined hereafter, let them go over till you have settled this great issue. I let me say to you that however pleasant and agreeable it is to what opinion it may be to test everything, as it arises, in matters of government, this is wholly an unwise policy, and that the surest, wisest and best lesson our fathers taught us is to do one thing at a time. It is an old Yankee adage—as old as the history of our government—and is the platform on which, in all times past, and in all time to come, for a new erected, and must stand, who have been ... and who mean to be successful.

Now I may allude as I said before, to some of the great questions that press upon our attention, and I allude to them as perfect frankness, with no desire to avoid or evade anything. Let me say, then, in regard to the question of the suppression of the sale of intoxicating drinks, which is a matter pressed hard by your opponents, and in the contention of which we have had our share—I say as a matter of principle that we here in the eyes of all men, men are stricken right and on the left, families ruined and brought to despair, crime and pauperism engendered, the people of thirteen or fifteen States have determined on one thing. And what is it? That the principle of prohibition should be established. Not at all, but that it should be tried. They have a right to try the question, they have the power to try the question, and they will try the question, (great applause) whether it shall be decided in a single year—in 1855 in this State—in 1856 in the State of Ohio or in 1857 in Illinois, or in 1858 in Massachusetts, is a matter of consideration for them. It is a question that can be tried at any time. But the great questions that can be tried now—questions that are forced upon us by the choice of other people. We must either decide that question or let us fail. ... question that presses upon us for immediate and lasting decision. We can determine this question at any time—this year or next year—every year it can be tried, and this will be the result. If the principle of prohibition be wrong and it is proved to be so in its results, it will be abandoned. If the laws enacting it be defective they will be amended. It is a work of time and experience, and it is to be tried again and again. But not, then, on the ... great questions that must be decided for all future time.

I come now to speak of the position in which your State is placed in regard to other States. In deciding things here, you should remember that you do not decide them for yourselves alone. Maine is the "Pioneer Star" which rises loaded with the blessings and the light of liberty, filling with warmth and hope all aspirations other New England States, and indeed the whole northern section of the confederacy, for as it rises—whether clearly or overcast—its light, as it beams, will draw men on the paths of light and truth, and honor and glory and temperance—and they will thus be filled with the spirit of liberty—That is the question. (Applause.) Let me say then that if you are broken down—not through weakness of the error of your cause—but by your divisions, or by your failing to combine the power you possess, we shall in the same manner be stricken down in Massachusetts, and as New England shall go, so will other States in the northern section of the country falter and fall, and fall in the track you have made.

We look then, to the State of Maine as the brightest that shall lead us on to victory, never doubting that you will have success. (Great applause.)

How, then, do your adversaries present the contest to you? They have presented a single issue—the question of prohibition. It must be tried, but if we have doubt about it let us sink this one, and let us give to the question of freedom that consideration and support which the institutions and principles of freedom demand. How then, shall we treat the administration now holding the reins of government? Let me say this to you—that power is the point of attraction both with you, and with them. Now power is represented by no principle. Power is represented by place and not by principle. Power should represent principle, but in the condition of human governments, power is more perfectly represented by place than can be represented by any other phase of language. Now whoever goes for giving the powers that be the places which represent power, is just as good an endorser of their principles from A to "Izzard," as need be desired. Take an illustration. Suppose a number of gentlemen come together in this city and declare that they do not express an opinion either of approval or disapproval in regard to the conduct of government upon the chief questions of the day they express no opinion in regard to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, but the result of their action is to defeat those who are strongly opposed to its repeal. How does that differ in any way from their coming out and boldly declaring what they are in favor of? The power then is declared by the place. These gentlemen give the government place. It is not necessary that the people should approve, all that is necessary is that the people should give the government place, and that is enough. So you have a clear chart before you—not to judge men or their declarations or resolves made in words, but to judge of them by what they can do, and thus you can judge by their actions who are for the perpetuation of a government in favor of freedom, and who are against it. And the chief, and indeed the only fear, is the division in your own ranks; and whoever counsels you to divide, look upon him as your enemy, whatever may be his platform, or his declaration, of his purpose. (Applause.)

I say then, Mr. President and fellow citizens that looking upon your State in this contest as leading the column in the forces of the army of liberty, fighting the first battle, and setting an example for weal or woe that must be followed in other sections of the country, I appeal to you to let no considerations separate you from your purpose, or lead you astray from securing that victory which belongs to you by right founded on principle. And what is the question? It is no more nor less than this:—Whether the government of this country shall be directed, through interested men to the support and propagation of the institution of American slavery, or whether it shall be directed so as to leave to every State its rights under the Constitution, but still to retain the predominant idea of the founders of American institutions, of ultimate and absolute personal liberty. And in this issue that fact is presented to us at this time. It has never been presented to the American people before. It is to uphold the naked unconditional propagating of American Slavery where it has not heretofore existed, but even where it was prohibited by the fathers of the government. It never has been presented to us before and if we can not act upon it now, it never will be a question that we can understand, and if it falls before us now, I doubt whether there is any question that will ever reach the hearts of the American people with sufficient power to bring them into that state of combination necessary to maintain the institutions of freedom.

I say that this question has never been presented to the American people before. I know that some believe that it has often been presented—that it was presented in the case of the admission of Louisiana, and Florida, and Texas, and the compromises of 1850, as well as now; but never before did the friends of this separate measure act exclusively upon the question of extending slavery where it did not previously exist. On the contrary, whenever the question has incidentally arisen, they have always declared against it—and the people in supporting the measures to which I have just adverted never did commit themselves to the carrying of slavery where it did not exist before. As for instance in the purchase of Louisiana, we had a provision securing our northern possessions to freedom. So with Texas, coupled with the acquisition of Oregon, so that many of the best men of the country gave their support on the ground that the constitution demanded their action on some of these measures. But here there is no such provision. Here is a fair and beautiful territory as any on the face of the earth. It has been passed over in review by the fathers of the government, and their decision in regard to it was adverse to the institution of slavery. They prohibited the institution from ever going there, and so it has remained for half a century—and now, for the first time in this country, men declare that that country shall be re opened to the same institution which had been by the patriotism and truth driven out from before the people. This is the question presented to us—will we sustain that action? Gentlemen, it goes further, if we sustain this action—the repeal of the Missouri Compromise—and thus dedicate this territory to the possibility or certainty of slavery, we engender other measures sure to come upon us at home in our own territory, and the right of slave owners to bring their slaves into the free states and hold them there, and all other measures which flow from like principles will be insisted upon.

The assertion on which the Missouri Compromise repeal is sustained, is that it is in accordance with the principles of the constitution—that the people have settled it by the act of 1854. If that construction is sustained, then it will be contended that the man who holds slaves should be free to go wherever he pleases in the territories of the United States—and if it covers the territories of the United States for certain purposes, it certainly extends to and covers the States themselves. If the southern man has a right to carry his slaves to Kansas, under the constitution, then he has a right, as they claim, and as it will be hardly denied, to carry his slaves wherever he may temporarily exist in passing through a State. And thus the man who holds slaves will have a right to carry them through a free State in defiance of State laws—for that is a question which is now beginning to be contended is not referred to the people of the States. Heretofore it has been referred, but now they claim it as an absolute right under the constitution, independently of the people of the States. And they appeal to what to sustain them? To the judiciary of the country, they have the advantage of throwing the entire patronage and power of the government upon these individuals, to give such a decision as shall be favorable to the claims thus made. And, mark you, there is no reference of the question here involved from the judiciary to the people of the localities where such a decision is made. You have seen the same thing in the State of New York heretofore, you have seen the principle declared from the judicial bench in Pennsylvania recently—the principle which declares that a man has a right to take his slaves in his transit through a free State where the local laws do not admit slavery; and that question being sustained by the judiciary, the further question comes up for decision. What is meant by transit through a State? and that question is also to be made the subject of a decision independently of the will of the people. You therefore provide for the ultimate establishment of the institution of slavery everywhere, by the will of those men who have the power and patronage of the government to influence the judiciary in making such a decision. Now, gentlemen, I have no aspersions to throw on the judiciary either of the States themselves, or the United States. Far be it from me. I believe in the value of the judicial power in deciding many disputed questions of construction—a judicial power selected by the popular choice, rather than by Governors and Presidents possessing the appointing power. (Applause.) I believe however, that wherever a government has demanded of a judiciary that it should carry out a particular purpose of that government, it has never failed to find a judiciary sufficiently pliant to carry out its work.

Now judicial representatives are mortal men, more perfect, or less perfect, as the case may be—and if this great question is hereafter to be referred to the people of the United States under a seeming principle of the constitution, and if they seem to assent to the claim that is now made, how can they complain if the judiciary should hereafter give a similar decision? How can we complain if we thus give millions of people, in consequence of local and temporary division, give our judges reason to legalize and perpetuate such an assumption of power? Gentlemen, if we dedicate again to slavery that territory which our fathers set free, if we sanction such a decision under the laws of this country as will enable men to carry their chattel slaves into the free States in transitu, leaving the length and breadth of the transit to be decided by the judiciary, how can we deny that the main object of this government is to perpetuate and strengthen and propagate the institution of slavery, simply and absolutely? If this is to be the object of the government, if this is to be the same submission of the people, how shall we, hereafter, when the claim is made for the re-establishment of the African slave trade as necessary for the interests of this great institution, extending entirely over the American States—how, I say, shall we deny the demands thus made, unless we stand upon the threshold of invasion and deny the right of slavery to put its foot upon territory where it does not now exist?

Mr. President, and fellow citizens, I say again, and I intend to re affirm it in this contest, that I will deny to the southern States and to southern men nothing that the constitution of this country gives to them, I say again, and I mean to say it more strongly and more frequently than I have ever said it before, that so far from taking the authority and the declarations of the fathers of our own States I am willing to judge the south by the declarations of the great statesmen of the south heretofore guiding the institutions of this country. (Applause.) I will take Washington, Madison, Jefferson, and Monroe. I will take even later southern presidents, and by their acts and upon their declarations, determine what are the rights of the south in regard to this institution; and by this light, and in view of the principles of these men I will say that the rights of the States are limited by their directing and controlling their institutions as shall seem to them to be proper in their respective States, that where territory is acquired by this government, if slavery is found existing there we have right to prohibit it, and if it does not, we have an ample power to prevent its being there established. Upon that ground I stand, and I appeal to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, and Madison and Benton, and Polk, and of many other men whose names have been sanctified by their declared hostility to an institution like this of which they could not readily rid themselves. How often have we read the declaration of Jefferson that when he remembered that God was just, he trembled for the safety of this country.

But coming down to our own times, I say that in the administration of John Quincy Adams, upon the declared, authoritative and written opinion of such men as John C. Calhoun and Mr. Crawford, and sustained by the ultimate decision of Mr. Monroe, was that the congress of the United States had a right to prohibit slavery in the territories of the United States where it had not previously existed, and coming down to the administration of Mr Polk we see such a provision carried through the congress of the United States and enrolled among the archives of the country by Mr. Polk himself, a southern man. We will, then, give them all they can claim under the constitution. We will leave their own men to determine what the limitation of that right may be, but beyond that, we go not one solitary step.—There we stand—there we fight—and if we fall with the flag of our country at our back and its folds upon our arm, we will fall fighting for the institutions of American government, and for the principles of liberty itself. [Applause.]

Now, gentlemen, I will ask your attention for a single moment, while I contrast the principles of the Kansas-Nebraska bill with the principles to which I have referred, as expressed and repeated over and over again in the history of this government; and I stand here to say that so far from the Kansas Nebraska bill referring the question of slavery to the decision of the people of Kansas or Nebraska, it does by itself declare that the institution of slavery in these territories is by that act a legal institution, and not only so, but it fixed the line where that institution shall become extinct and by whose action. Now I am aware that I state this matter differently from those who supported the Nebraska bill. They say that the whole matter is declared in the law itself; and I am aware that it is so declared, but I also understand that a declared intent of a law is not to be a question against a clearly embodied principle in the law itself—that is to say, the words of the law makers cannot be made to dispute a plain provision of the law itself.

Now what does this Nebraska law do? It finds a territory covered by an act prohibiting the institution of slavery therein. What does it do?—Why it repeals that act. That perhaps were well, but it does not stop there. It sets aside an act of congress defining a line beyond which slavery should not go, and the question is, will the repeal of that act establishing that line re-establish the institution of slavery north of that line, or prevent it south of it? Congress finds this question raised, and southern men and northern men differ on the matter, and therefore to make certain what is the design of the law, it declares by a provision introduced by Mr Badger, that any acts, principles or measures existing prior to 1820, establishing or protecting, prohibiting or abolishing slavery in these territories shall never be enforced there, that is, if the great common law of England were the common law of the country before 1820, that common law should not be applied there, or if a Mexican or Spanish institution by any complication of circumstances or enactments should be found there declaring that a freeman could never be made a slave that institution should be set aside and repealed—"any law that shall be found to prohibit or abolish slavery is, over these territories, inoperative and void, and of no force whatever." What, then, is the condition of a slave owner who takes a slave there. He stands precisely in the position of a man discovering a new island, subject to no law but that of his own conscience. He takes with him a slave, and it is clear that between him and the slave himself must the question of slavery or liberty be determined. So it is in this territory and everybody knows that in the territories of Kansas and Nebraska, men are held by virtue of some law in chattel bondage. This condition of things in the territories is recognized, and provisions are made for the determination of questions growing out of slavery, by the local courts and the courts of the United States and the fact being obvious that slaves are there and recognized as such, who can deny that there is a legal existence of the institution of slavery in these territories? But go one step further. Is there a time when the institution of slavery in Kansas and Nebraska is to end? There is a time intended—a period fixed in these acts which will, when it occurs, abrogate, prohibit and abolish the institution of slavery, and that time I find is this—when the people of these territories shall by their action declare that slavery shall not exist in these territories, then it ceases to be a legal institution. There is the act, sir, it speaks for itself. Now I ask you—I care not whether you be Whig or Democrat, Free Soiler or Nebraskaite, Hard Shell or Soft Shell, Hunker or Barnburner, or the devil himself—I ask you to point me to any one act in this country, or in any other country where, by the representatives of the people, the institution of slavery has been reestablished where it not only did not previously exist, but was not established by the founders of the government? Nowhere. Therefore I say that the Kansas-Nebraska act contravenes all the principles of Democracy, it contravenes all precedents in the history of this country, that it is denounced by the action, by the express opinion and by the principles not only of northern men but of southern men, and deserves never to be countenanced by a free people, whether of the north or the south, for a single moment. [Applause.]

But they say that there is a power given to the people to determine the question for themselves. I deny it. I deny that the congress of the United States can surrender its power to the people of the territories. The territories are subject to the representation of the people of the States, and no congress can delegate such power to the people of the territories. The people of the territories cannot by a majority prohibit or abolish the institution of slavery, or establish it among themselves. They have no "popular sovereignty." They cannot elect their Governor, they cannot elect their judges, who are the last persons to determine the question of freedom or slavery in the territory. They cannot make a constitution, nor can they perpetuate the "constitution" under which they now act—which is the Kansas Nebraska central bill of the last congress. Congress may at any moment repeal the law which stands to them now in the place of a constitution. Popular sovereignty? Why, sir, the people of England, France, Turkey, or Russia, have any day as much as the people of these territories now—They therefore, have no power to abolish or prohibit the institution of slavery foisted upon them by people who did not represent them. [Applause.] The south asked not for it, the north asked not for it; on the contrary, everybody pronounced against it. Read the platform of the Democratic party adopted at Baltimore in 1852, or that of the Whig party at the same place, or that of the Free Soilers at Pittsburg, and everywhere you will find a declaration of principle directly and positively against such an enactment as that embodied in the Kansas Nebraska bill.—Look at the declaration of the President himself in his inaugural address? Elected by an almost overwhelming vote in 1852, how solemnly did he declare that the people should find in him a fixed, determined, resolute and immovable enemy to all further disturbance of this question, and not content with making this declaration in his inaugural, how solemnly did he repeat that declaration in 1853 in his message, and declared that he would stand fixed as a flint in his resistance to any attempt that might be made to reopen this great question? And yet who does not know how the question of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise was sustained by that man. Even Mr Douglass himself, the chairman of the Senate Committee on territories reported against the disturbance of this line of 1820 as being in contravention of the continually declared will of the people of the United States, and for some time refused to have anything to do with it whatever. Every one, on all sides, from every party and from every platform, we heard an unquestioned and absolute denial of the principle embodied in these bills. And yet there they are to day—laws of the United States, and we hear it said again and again that the army and navy of the United States are ready at the beck of the President to enforce these laws! How came it there? It came from the nature of our institutions.

There are gentlemen at the South who are greatly afflicted in their political aspirations. In the South elections are hotly contested, and, when men find they are likely to be beaten in the race, they have recourse to new expedients. There was such a race in 1853, it grew out of Missouri, in local questions and local ambition. What was the result? It was necessary to bring in a new matter of dispute, just as your opponents bring in the liquor law. You have it in the words of a candidate for the Senate to-day who was then a candidate; and when Mr. Douglass declared he would not bring in a bill with such a provision, and his declaration was assented to by every member of the Committee but one, this candidate for the Senate said, "You have twenty-four hours to bring in a bill for the organization of those territories, with a clause repealing the Missouri Compromise; and if you do not do it, I will." A like domineering and arbitrary course has been pursued ever since. You have had the Washington Union and the local papers throughout the land declaring that every man who failed to support this measure, no longer sustained democratic principles, and now this vital question this fall is to be settled by the people. I am here, fellow citizens, to call your attention to this important fact. How small a spark indeed it is that has kindled this great blaze that now threatens to dishonor and disgrace the institutions of the country, if it does not destroy the Union itself. It is the local ambition, the temporary thought, determined purpose of a single individual battling upon the question of slavery that has cost all this. And if you allow one man to do what has been done in this case, in every desperate effort hereafter there are other men who will do the same thing. You have, to determine, then, that you will meet the question now, that you will nip all such efforts in the bud, and show to ambitious aspirants that they cannot trifle with and jeopardize the institutions of the country when their own ambitious purposes alone are to be secured. I have not a word to say against the south. I denounce nobody, no party, no section, but I look to the people of the North alone as the people who are to sustain the institutions of freedom.

"Who would be free, themselves must strike the blow!" (Great Applause.) It is the belief of many men connected with the government, that though the North would resist for a time, it would not stand permanently and long against the measure. From the President, the Senate, the House of Representatives and the newspaper press, down to the lowest dough face this has been the conviction, and the principle of action that has controlled these men. Let it stand then, once in the history of this country, that the Northern people have asserted their rights and assumed the powers that belong to them. (Applause.) Let us remember that what we are called upon to do is to preserve the highest and noblest privilege of any people, of any nation on the face of the earth. (Long continued applause.)

Charles E. Almy, of Little Compton, R. I., the other day murdered his cousin Valentine S. Almy, by shooting him. The murdered man died soon after, but could give no reason for the murderous assault, and the perpetrator would not. Charles was arrested. The New Bedford Standard says

"He persistingly refuses to disclose the cause of the cold-blooded, barbarous act, and appears extremely indifferent as to the result of the transaction. The funeral of the deceased took place Wednesday. It was numerously attended. From the accounts which we receive, we can make nothing out of the affair but a deliberate, wilful, malicious murder. There may be extenuating circumstances, but they have not yet been presented. As it stands out before us, its blackness is unrelieved by a single ray of light."

WASHINGTON ITEMS. CHOLERA AT FORT RILEY. Washington, Aug 17. The statements in the Northern papers that the President intends visiting Canada are untrue, though it is quite probable invitations have been extended to him do so.

The War Department came very near being destroyed by fire this afternoon, in consequence of some loose papers carelessly left becoming ignited. The flames were suppressed, however, without material damage, but intense alarm was felt for a while among the West End Officials.

The War Department has received authentic intelligence in regard to the cholera at Fort Riley. Majors Wood and Armstead were not dead, but their wives were. Two of Major Wood's children had also died. The death of Major Ogden is confirmed. A number of the troops had died.

THE CROPS IN THIS COUNTY. The hay crop has been nearly all got in in good order, and it is first rate,—there will be an abundance as we are told. The wheat, what little there is of it, looks remarkably well, and if that troublesome insect, the weevil, does not work on it, there will be some raised. Oats are heavy, as we are informed, and many farmers have mowed and are now thrashing for market. There will be a good crop. Corn has come forward quick, since the cold weather in June, and the ear is now filling rapidly, and if old Jack will keep away till after the fall excitement is over, we may expect a pretty good crop. We shan't despair. Potatoes look well as yet, but as this is the month which determines the rot, we cannot say but little of them—many early blues have been brought into market, fully ripe and mealy—and we opine that there will be plenty of them, and for less than fifty cents per bushel.—Piscataquis Observer.

THE OHIO RIVER—FLOUR COMING EAST—Pittsburg, Aug. 17.—The river here is now five feet in depth, but will probably rise higher, in consequence of the heavy rains last night.

Flour is beginning to move eastward, and consequently is in active demand throughout the west. The effect of the condition of the milling streams will soon be felt in the increased delivery of flour eastward.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT. The Grand Jury came in on Thursday evening, having concluded their labors, and acted upon all the business brought before them. They were discharged by Judge Howard. It is understood that the subject of the recent riot was pretty thoroughly investigated, and that no bill was found against Mr. Dow. [Portland Adv.

DESERTED.—A few nights since, six sailors deserted from the U. S. receiving ship, at Boston. They lowered a boat almost under the nose of the sentinel and escaped to the land.

THE PASSMORE WILLIAMSON CASE.—Philadelphia, Aug 16. The Supreme Court, without giving any decision in the case, adjourned to meet at Sunbury, on the first Monday in October.

A telegraphic despatch from Washington states that Dr. Parker has been appointed Commissioner to China.

DANGEROUS FRAUD.—There are in circulation bills of the Milford Bank, of Delaware, which failed some months since, altered so as to purport to be issued by the Milford Bank, of Massachusetts, the word Massachusetts being pasted over the word Delaware. In some cases the denomination of the bill is also altered.—Look out for them.

HARRISBURG, Aug 16. Henry Glant was arrested here to day for robbing the mail on board of the packet-boat Dauphin, and committed in default of bail for $2000.

A Newport bather was, on Wednesday, robbed of a valuable gold watch and much money while he luxuriated in the surf.

It is said that there are over three thousand persons in New York city whose only lodging place is the door step, the coal box, or the benches in the public square.

FORGER ARRESTED.—Henry J. R. Lord, passenger from Eastport, Me. was arrested by Capt. Tetiton, of the Harbor police, on the arrival of the schooner Perseverance at this port. The forged note was for $170, on John Balch, of Eastport. The accused was handed over to the custody of officers from that place.

ARRIVED.—There arrived in this port on Sunday and Monday 65 ships, barks and brigs, and 100 schooners. They brought a vast quantity of merchandise from foreign and domestic ports, principally the latter.—Boston Chronicle.

We are happy to learn that young Robinson, who was accidentally shot in the foot, has so far recovered as to be able to be out.—Portland Advertiser.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—Yesterday (Wednesday) morning, by Mr. Justice Shallow, on board the steamer Senguin, Hon. Elisha Straightout, to Miss Frank P. Nebraska, all of Bath.—Bath Tribune.

The U. S. sloop of War Falmouth has arrived at New York from Havana, with yellow fever on board. Several cases have terminated fatally, since her arrival at New York.

DR. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA

The most valuable at this Season as a Restorative.

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD

It not only creates new, rich, and pure blood, but it will effectually carry off all putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, and

KEEP THE BLOOD PURE.

One great recommendation in using this Sarsaparilla is that every bottle of it is manufactured under the direct superintendence of the most celebrated Chemist and Physician in this country, and his certificate attached to each bottle guarantees that it is Purely Vegetable and without Mercury. There has never yet been a medicine presented to the public which has so effectually sustained its character for Purifying the Blood as Dr. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA," and the fact that it has entirely superseded all other preparations claiming the same properties, alone speaks volumes in its favor. THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE. Only purify the Blood and disease must vanish. First Premium PIANO FORTES!

WE have received the agency, for Bangor and vicinity, for the sale of which are acknowledged by competent judges to be, in the essential requisites of a Piano, the best now made in this country.

Mr Brown was of the old firm of Brown & Hallett, (whose Pianos have been long in the market and are much admired for their durability and purity of tone) subsequently ten years foreman in the justly celebrated manufactory of the late Jonas Chickering, Esq., where he perfected and applied his PATENT GRAND ACTION.

Piano Fortes of their manufacture are distinguished for FIRMNESS, pure natural quality of tone, and superior elastic action. See extract from Report of Committee on Musical Instruments at the Rhode Island society for the encouragement of Domestic Industry, holden September 12th to 16th, 1851.

"After a careful examination of the workmanship externally and internally, and after repeated trials and hearings, your Committee feel prepared to say that this (Brown & Allen's) Piano Forte is one of the very best they have ever met with in the course of some seventeen years observation of the progress of Piano Forte manufacture in this country. In purity, combined with power and mellowness of tone, in evenness of tone from the bottom to the top of the scale, in the great excellence of the action, in the toughness and elegance of workmanship throughout, in all the qualities, in short, which unitedly constitute a first rate Piano Forte, this instrument, in the opinion of your Committee, has not been surpassed by any Square Piano Forte hitherto produced among us, and they consider it eminently worthy of the highest premium in this department."

Read the following certificate from a well known competent judge

—CERTIFICATE—

To whom it may concern:—I have had occasion to use, and to select for many of my friends, Piano fortes made by Messrs. Brown & Allen, and I do not hesitate to say that their instruments are not second to those made by any other person or persons in the city, and in many of the more important points, such as purity of tone and neatness of touch, durability, &c., I cannot but give to them the preference. I would therefore recommend to those who may wish to purchase, to call at 354 Washington street and examine for themselves B. F. BAKER

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running in the ears and blotches in the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ring worm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure salt-rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of Scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as, that a common weed, growing, upon the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There are no ifs nor ands about it, hitting some cases but not yours. He has peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston, and knows the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. He gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty; and has seen puny looking children whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some who have taken it have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week.—There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

No change of diet ever necessary. But the best you can get and enough of it.

ROXBURY, Sept 19, 1853.

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE

Capt Daniel Abbott, Brooklin, Maine, July 16, 1853, says. "I was taken sick one year ago last April, upon my passage from Havana to Charleston, S C. At the latter place I took medicine and procured a physician, but for ten days could obtain no relief, no sleep or appetite. At last taking up a newspaper having your advertisement, of "Hoofland's German Bitters" in it, I sent for some immediately. This was about 10 o'clock, at 11 o'clock I took the first dose, and another at 6 o'clock. The effect was so rapid on me that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found me a well man—I have not been without your medicine since, having been sailing between Baltimore, Charleston, and the West India Islands ever since. I have now given up going to sea and reside in this place, where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it."

Jos. B Hall & Co., Presque Isle, Aroostook Co., Maine, April 24, 1854, say. "We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters. We think Mr Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story."

Messrs. Jos B Hall & Co—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years, and about the first of January last was taken down and confined to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe, besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a number of cures performed by "Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to try them in her case, and sent to your store and purchased one bottle. She had taken it but a few days when she began to improve, and now, after taking only one bottle, she is enjoying better health than she has for years.—She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters.

IMPORTANT PROCLAMATION!

A Great Mystery Explained.

In the year of our Lord 1847, in our capacities of analytical chemists, we discovered that by uniting certain vegetable agents, which had never before been used in medicine, we obtained properties possessing such a marvellous quick power over PAIN, that the moment it was applied to the parts affected with pain, all uneasiness ceased. The most torturing pains were relieved in an instant, and the most violent spasms and irritations were soothed, and the system restored to perfect ease in a few minutes.

In 1849 we introduced this Remedy to the world under the name of

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

It has been used by hundreds of thousands throughout the United States, giving instant ease to all troubled with Pain or Sickness.

One application externally, or a few drops taken internally, will instantly free the sufferer from the most violent and terrible pains, and restore the weak, feeble, and prostrated frame to strength and vigor.

No person has ever used RADWAY'S READY RELIEF who did not derive some special benefit in less than fifteen minutes after its use.

Let those who are now suffering any severe pains give it a trial, for in fifteen minutes they will enjoy ease and comfort.

was the first and is the only remedy ever discovered that will stop the most torturing pains in a few seconds, and free the system from Rheumatic, Neuralgic, Nervous, and Rheumatic Disorders in a few hours. It will cure and protect the system against sudden attacks of

CHOLERA,	DYSENTERY,
DIARRHŒA,	CHOLERA MORBUS,
BILIOUS CHOLIC,	FEVER AND AGUE,
PNEUMONIA,	INFLUENZA.

Bear in mind, it is a powerful Disinfectant, antiacid, diffusive stimulant, nervine, anti spasmodic, and counter irritant.

The R R R. REMEDIES are medical discoveries of the present century. They are prepared on an entire new and original theory, "to stop pain instantly," and protect the human system against sickness or any sudden attacks. The doses required to be taken are small. A few drops of READY RELIEF exercise a powerful influence over diseased action.

IT HAS CURED

Rheumatism in four hours,
Neuralgia in one hour,
Croup in ten minutes,
Diarrhœa in fifteen minutes,
Toothache in one second,
Spasm in five minutes,
Sick Headache in fifteen minutes,
Chill Fever in fifteen minutes,
Chilblains in five minutes,
Sore Throat in four minutes,
Influenza in one hour

SPINAL COMPLAINTS Stiff Joints, Cuts, Bruises, Wounds, Frost Bites, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Tic Doloreux, and all other complaints where there are severe pains, RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will instantly stop the pain, and quickly cure the disease.

[For the remarkable efficacy of R. R. R. Discovery, No. 2, and the complaints cured by Radway's Renovating Resolvent, see in next week's paper.]

—FOR THE—

Cure of Dyspepsia.

THIS remedy is composed of a compound preparation of a common weed growing along the sea shore, and is a certain remedy for the cure of Dyspepsia and its accompanying diseases, to wit

Sour and Sick Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Pain in the Side and Breast, Palpitation of the Heart, Ulcers and Eruptions of all kinds, Chills and Fever, Gravel, and Diseases of the Kidneys, Nervousness, Weakness of the Limbs, Fainting Spells, and all diseases peculiar to Females

Nearly every person is more or less afflicted with Dyspepsia, or some of the diseases connected with it, and it is with feelings of pleasure that Dr Schenck can announce to all such the discovery of the virtues of the Sea Weed, which is just the remedy for their ailments. Dyspepsia and the many diseases arising from it, is caused by the deficient secretion of the gastric juices, and weakness of the powers of the stomach. The effect of the Sea Weed Tonic is felt soon after it is taken, as it supplies at once the principles of the deficient gastric juice, and the food is digested naturally. In fact the Tonic so nearly resembles the natural gastric juice that chemists even find difficulty in distinguishing them. It gives tone and strengthens the stomach thus enabling it to secrete the proper quality and quantity of Gastric juice, and Dyspepsia and all its diseases soon disappear.

It is a well known fact that none suffer like the Dyspeptic, for in addition to the Dyspepsia there is often either Headache, Sour and Sick Stomach, Pain in the Side, Palpitations of the Heart, Chills and Fever, Gravel, Disease of the Kidneys, Nervous Weakness and Tremors, General Debility, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bad Taste, Fever, Stoppages in Females, all or each of them arising from a disordered state of the Stomach and here is a newly discovered remedy, for the trifling sum of one dollar, that will cure all this train of disease!

Now, Dyspeptic, will you not avail yourself of this remedy for so trifling a cost, or will you still suffer on? The choice is for you to make. The Sea Weed Tonic is a pleasant bitters, giving a person a good appetite and good digestion. It put up in quart bottle, always agrees with the stomach, and one bottle generally effects a cure. Whenever the bowels are costive, the tongue furred, or the complexion sallow, a few of Schenck's Mandrake or Liver Pills are to be used. A box of these Pills accompany each bottle of the Tonic, and will be found in a recess of the bottle, covered with a label.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Will be found to possess those qualities necessary to the total eradication of all bilious attacks, prompt to start the secretions of the liver and give a healthy tone to the entire system. Indeed, it is no ordinary discovery in Medical Science, to have invented a remedy for these stubborn complaints, which develope all the results produced by a heretofore free use of calomel—a mineral justly dreaded by mankind—and acknowledged to be destructive in the extreme to the human system. That the properties of certain vegetables comprise all the virtues of calomel, without its injurious tendencies, is now an admitted fact, rendered indisputable by scientific researches, and those who use the Mandrake Pill, will be fully satisfied that the best medicines are those provided by nature in the common roots and herbs of the fields.

The Pills open the bowels and correct all bilious derangements without salivation, or any of the injurious effects of calomel or other poisons. The secretion of bile is promoted by these Pills, as will be seen by the altered color of the stools, and disappearing of the sallow complexion and cleansing of the tongue.

Ample directions for use accompany each box of Pills, and the price of a quart bottle of the Sea Weed Tonic and box of Pills combined is only one dollar. But separate boxes of Pills can be had of any of the agents for 25 cents.

These remedies are prepared under the personal supervision of Dr J. H. Schenck, proprietor of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, the well established remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, &c., &c, and the inventor of the celebrated Respirometer, for examining and detecting all diseases of the Lungs, Heart, &c

Are curing the Sick to an extent never before known of any Medicine.

INVALIDS, READ AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELVES.

JULES HAUEL, Esq., the well known perfumer of Chestnut street, Philadelphia, whose choice products are found at almost every toilet, says:

"I am happy to say of your CATHARTIC PILLS, that I have found them a better family medicine for common use, than any other within my knowledge. Many of my friends have realized marked benefits from them, and coincide with me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out diseases and curing the sick. They are not only effectual but safe and pleasant to be taken, qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known."

The venerable Chancellor WARDLAW, writes from Baltimore, 15th April 1854

"DR. J. C. AYER—Sir: I have taken your Pills with great benefit, for the listlessness, languor, loss of appetite, and Bilious headache, which has of late years overtaken me in the spring. A few doses of your Pills cured me. I have used your Cherry Pectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with unfailing success. You make medicines which cure and I feel it a pleasure to commend you for the good you have done and are doing."

JOHN F. BEATTY, Esq., Sec. of the Penn. Railroad Co., says

"Pa. R. R. Office, Philadelphia, Dec. 13, 1853.

"Sir: I take pleasure in adding my testimony to the efficacy of your medicines, having derived very material benefit from the use of both your Pectoral and Cathartic Pills. I am never without them in my family, nor shall I ever consent to be, while my means will procure them."

The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of Wentworth, N. H., writes

"Having used your CATHARTIC PILLS in my practice, I certify from experience that they are an invaluable purgative. In cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing headache, indigestion, costiveness, and the great variety of diseases that follow, they are a surer remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy is required, I confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are sure in their operation and perfectly safe, qualities which make them an invaluable article for public use. I have for many years known your Cherry Pectoral as the best Cough medicine in the world, and these Pills are in no wise inferior to that admirable preparation for the treatment of diseases."

"Acton, Me., Nov. 25, 1853.

"DR. J. C. AYER—Dear Sir: I have been afflicted from my birth with scrofula in its worst form, and now, after twenty years' trial, and an untold amount of suffering, have been completely cured in a few weeks by your Pills. With what feelings of rejoicing I write, can only be imagined when you realize what I have suffered, and how long.

"Never until now have I been free from this loathsome disease in some shape. At times it attacked my eyes, and made me almost blind, besides the unendurable pain, at others it settled in the scalp of my head, and destroyed my hair, and has kept me partly bald all my days, sometimes it came out in my face and kept it for months a raw sore.

"About nine weeks ago I commenced taking your Cathartic Pills, and now am entirely free from the complaint. My eyes are well, my skin is fair, and my hair has commenced a healthy growth; all of which makes me feel already a new person.

"Hoping this statement may be the means of conveying information that shall do good to others, I am, with every sentiment of gratitude, Yours &c.

MARIA RICKER.

"I have known the above named Maria Ricker from her childhood, and her statement is strictly true.

ANDREW J. MESERVE,

Overseer of the Portsmouth Manufacturing Co."

CAPT. JOEL PRATT, of the ship Marion, writes from Boston, 20th April, 1854:

"Your Pills have cured me from a bilious attack which arose from derangement of the Liver, which had become very serious. I had failed of any relief by my Physician and from every remedy I could try, but a few doses of your Pills have completely restored me to health. I have given them to my children for worms, with the best effects. They were promptly cured. I recommended them to a friend for costiveness, which had troubled him for months, he told me in a few days they had cured him. You make the best medicine in the world, and I am free to say so."

Read this from the distinguished Solicitor of the Supreme Court, whose brilliant abilities have made him well known, not only in this but the neighboring States.

—New Orleans, 5th April, 1854.

"Sir: I have great satisfaction in assuring you that myself and family have been very much benefited by your medicines. My wife was cured two years since of a severe and dangerous cough by your CHERRY PECTORAL, and since then has enjoyed perfect health. My children have several times been cured from attacks of the Influenza and Croup by it. It is an invaluable remedy for these complaints. Your CATHARTIC PILLS have entirely cured me from a dyspepsia and costiveness, which has grown upon me for some years,—indeed this cure is much more important, from the fact that I had failed to get relief from the best Physicians which this section of the country affords, and from any of the numerous remedies I had taken.

"You seem to us Doctor, like a providential blessing to our family, and you may well suppose we are not unmindful of it. Yours respectfully,

LEAVITT THAXTER."

"Senate Chamber, Ohio, April 5th 1854.

"DR. J. C. AYER—Honored Sir: I have made a thorough trial of the CATHARTIC PILLS, left me by your agent, and have been cured by them of the dreadful Rheumatism under which he found me suffering. The first dose relieved me, and a few subsequent doses have entirely removed the disease. I feel in better health now than for some years before, which I attribute entirely to the effects of your CATHARTIC PILLS. Yours with great respect, LUCIUS B. METCALF."

The above are all from persons who are publicly known where they reside, and who would not make these statements without a thorough conviction that they were true.

New England Roofing Company,

MANUFACTURERS OF

WARRENS' IMPROVED

Fire and Water Proof Composition Roofs,

Office——7 Liberty Square, Boston.

THIS Company would respectfully call the attention of Builders, Architects, Manufacturers and the Public to this new system of Roofing, which has been very extensively adopted in the cities of Buffalo, Chicago, and St Louis, and within this city and vicinity, where it has given universal satisfaction. It is rapidly superseding the other kinds of Roof and is confident to the Public, as a mode of Roofing, unequalled in every important particular.

The materials employed are not subject to corrosion or rust, like the metal; they expand and contract with the temperature, like tin and iron metals, in hot weather, and swell in damp, like shingles and other wood coverings.

It combines in a greater degree than any other Fire Proof Roof now in use, the requisites of cheapness, durability, and security against both Fire and Water.

These Roofs require an inclination of not more than one inch to the foot, leaving them in condition for a promenade for drying clothes, &c., and is of particular advantage to adjoining buildings in the event of Fire.

They are afforded at a much less price than any other Fire Proof Roof. The amount of material saved, and which would be used (in the case of a pitched roof) in raising the walls and forming the roof, still further reduces the cost of the same.

Another advantage gained, is that the attic rooms in the Upper Story, of the same are larger and quite as commodious, as those in any other part of the building. The expense of a fire-proof roof on any building, with this improvement, is no greater than that of a building of the same size with the pitched roof. There is a further saving in the cost of gutters.

These roofs are not affected by the action of machinery—like those of Tin or Slate.

The Composition is so prepared that it is not affected by the extremes of heat or cold.

In case of injury from any cause whatever, the roof is so easily or quickly repaired.

Further information obtained by application to either of the Company's Officers.
